PERFORMANCE STANDARD #1: INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAM DELIVERY

Supervisors prepare for quality instructional program support using a comprehensive approach.

Service and Support The Supervisor should know and be able to:		Level of Performance The Supervisor performing at this level:
		Unsatisfactory	Progressing	Proficient	Exemplary
1a	Demonstrate knowledge of current trends in specialty area and professional development.	Has a working knowledge of specialty area, but is ineffective in providing support services that advance the quality of instruction.	Demonstrates knowledge of specialty area and trends in professional development, but is not always skilled in delivery of support services to others.	Demonstrates thorough knowledge of specialty area and knowledgeable about trends in professional development. Promotes improved practice among school professionals in improving the quality of instruction. Remains current in their field so they can serve as resources to colleagues.	Has advanced knowledge, understanding and skill in area of specialty. Supervisor is recognized for expertise and sought after by colleagues for assistance. Incorporates a wide range of professional development activities to meet the needs of diverse audiences.
1b	Collaboratively develop assessment tasks that are aligned with district curriculum.	Does not develop assessment tasks that are aligned with the curriculum.	Uses an assessment approach that proposes to assess some aspects of the curriculum.	Develops assessment tasks, in collaboration with others that are aligned with the curriculum.	Provides leadership for the design of assessment tasks and/or the intervention.
1c	Access resources both within and beyond the school and district.	Demonstrates little or no knowledge of resources available in the school or district for educators or students to advance their skills.	Demonstrates basic knowledge of resources available in the school and district for educators or students to advance their skills.	Consistently accesses resources available in schools, across the district and in the larger professional community for educators to advance their skills.	Actively seeks out new resources from a wide range of sources to enrich educators' skills in implementing the district vision.
1d	Use the grade or course aligned curriculum, content knowledge and pre-requisite skills.	Does not use the aligned district adopted curriculum maps or instructional calendars when planning with others. Makes content errors.	Sometimes uses the aligned district adopted curriculum or pacing guides when planning with others. Displays good content knowledge in area of expertise. Information presented is generally accurate, but may not reflect contemporary knowledge.	Consistently uses the aligned district adopted curriculum or pacing guides when planning with others. Displays solid content knowledge in area of expertise. Information presented is accurate and consistent with well-established concepts or sound practices of the discipline. Information presented to others is accurate and consistent with well-established concepts or sound practices of the discipline.

1f	Demonstrate flexibility and responsiveness related to the instructional program.	Adheres to the plan or program, in spite of evidence of its inadequacy. Gives up or places blame elsewhere when the instructional support program is not successful.	Makes modest changes in the instructional support program when confronted with evidence of the need for change. Works with others to find solutions.	Continually seeks ways to improve the instructional support program for student success. Works well with support and educational personnel as partners. Makes revisions to the support program when it is needed.	Persists in seeking effective ways to improve the instructional support program for student success. Works collaboratively with a wide range of support and educational personnel as essential partners. Makes changes as needed in response to student, parent, teacher and/or other input.
1g	Use a variety of materials, methods, and strategies to remove barriers to learning.	Provides support that consists of a random collection of unrelated activities lacking coherence or an overall structure. Demonstrates little or no knowledge of the school or district action plans and instructional programs. Delivers one size fits all supports to all teachers, with minimal impact on improving learning for students.	Includes a number of worthwhile activities when supporting educators, but some of them do not fit with the broader goals outlined in building and/or district action plans. Has a basic knowledge of the schools'/school's instructional program and of teacher skill in delivering those programs. Makes suggestions that will provide access to the curriculum for all students.	Uses knowledge of research based interventions to guide the implementation and monitoring of instructional strategies and interventions that meet the individual learning needs of students. Supports educators in monitoring measurable academic interventions. Assists in the design of suggestions that provide access to the curriculum for all students.	Is highly familiar with the school and/or district action plans and works to support educators with the integration of that vision with instructional programs. Seeks information as to the level of teacher skill and effectiveness in implementation of various program components. Is highly coherent in providing support, taking into account the competing demands of making presentations and consulting with educators. Recognizes barriers that prevent advancement of learning within the school and/or district. Works collaboratively with administrators and others to reduce and eliminate these barriers.

1h	Recommend, implement or monitor academic interventions.	Does not participate in the design, implementation or monitoring of academic interventions.	Provides some recommendations, monitoring and follow-up of academic interventions.	Demonstrates thorough knowledge of researched based interventions. Supports educators in progress monitoring systems of these interventions.	Demonstrates extensive knowledge of research-based interventions by including these principles in the implementation and evaluation of academic interventions. Supports educators by ensuring progress monitoring systems are in place to determine intervention effectiveness and promptly takes action to adjust accommodations or modifications when progress-monitoring data suggests the need to do so.
1i	Help staff learn what quality instruction looks like.	Helping staff visualize what great instruction looks like is not purposeful or is an afterthought. The supervisor neither trains staff to recognize "quality instruction" nor sets high expectations for teaching and learning.	The supervisor trains staff to recognize "quality instruction," and uses the teacher evaluation instrument to help explain what highly effective teaching looks like. However, the supervisor does not provide models and exemplars for teaching and learning about what quality instruction looks like. He/she does not set high expectations . 2a	Establish clear procedures for educators to gain access to instructional support.	Has not created or communicated the procedures for accessing instructional support. When teachers want to access assistance from the Supervisor, they are not sure how to go about it.	Has some procedures (e.g. setting up after school workshops) that are clear to teachers, whereas others (e.g. receiving informal support) are not.	Has established clear procedures for teachers to use in gaining access to support and/or professional development from the Supervisor to advance their skills.	Has a procedure for accessing support that is clear to all teachers and has been developed following consultation with administrators and educators.
2b	Coach teachers to plan interventions, accommodations & modifications to maximize likelihood of student success.	Demonstrates minimal knowledge of curriculum, instructional strategies, assessment and/or special programs resulting in plans that are not suitable for students, or interventions are mismatched with the findings of the identified needs. Provides minimal suggestions for improving student achievement.	Demonstrates basic knowledge of curriculum, instructional strategies, assessment and/or special programs which is reflected in plans for students that are partially suitable for them or are sporadically aligned with identified needs. Provides input when working with educators.	Uses thorough knowledge of curriculum, instructional strategies, assessment and/or special programs when recommending comprehensive instructional and/or intervention plans for students. Instruction and/or interventions are both suitable and aligned with identified needs. Plans, developed in collaboration with other educators, are appropriate for the situation and are geared toward maximizing the likelihood of student success.	Demonstrates extensive knowledge in the field of curriculum, instructional strategies, assessment and/or special programs and is adept at recommending the most suitable interventions for the students and the situation. Considers results from multiple assessments and sources when working collaboratively with educators to develop comprehensive student plans.
2c	Model strategies for adjusting instruction and/or interventions based on progress monitoring results.	Provides progress reports at the end of a unit of study which do not assist educators or students in error correction toward achievement of learning goals, as it is often too little too late.	Uses assessments to measure outcomes at the end of a unit of study. General assessment monitoring is used to assist educators in identifying students' status and does not advance the use of progress monitoring to guide instruction.	Shares many forms of progress monitoring assessment tools with educators. Demonstrates how to use data when making instructional and/or behavioral decisions throughout the year. Uses descriptive feedback, verbally and visually, to help educators monitor progress toward learning or behavior goals on an on-going basis.	Provides support in how to use ongoing progress monitoring tools to refine and modify student instruction in reference to the learning targets. Guides teachers in understanding that remediation, instruction, or enrichment is based on the diagnosis of status relative to the learning objectives. Helps to create academic and/or behavioral achievement reports for students on a regular basis. Is able to articulate how students who require particular assistance, also require an increase in the frequency of progress monitoring reporting.

21	Provide appropriate feedback.	Poorly communicates information regarding the academic and/or social needs of students. Written reports are either incomplete or not completed in a timely manner. Does not follow-up with school Personnel regarding recommendation effectiveness.	Communicates individual academic needs of students to appropriate school personnel. Written reports meet expectations. Occasionally follows-up with school personnel regarding effectiveness of recommendations.	Conveys information from assessments in a meaningful manner to PLC/professional forums and/or intervention teams and other school personnel. Interprets assessment results for others in developing instructional or intervention plans for students. Written reports and documentation is both accurate and completed in a timely manner. Regularly follows-up with school personnel regarding the effectiveness of recommendations.	Communicates with other professionals in a manner highly sensitive to cultural and linguistic traditions. Adept at interpreting and communicating assessment results to teach others about using assessment results to design comprehensive instructional or intervention plans for students. Written reports are accurate, well organized and well written. Provides consistent follow-up with school personnel to determine effectiveness of recommendations.
22	Utilize technology to gather data and enhance the learning environment.	Does not use available technology. Unaware of how to access or use electronic data management systems to store and retrieve student information to monitor progress or generate reports.	Demonstrates some technology skills that support instruction and/or interventions. Has a working knowledge of how to access student information, achievement results, track progress monitoring and is able to generate reports.	Uses computer programs that assist with effectiveness of using data to drive instruction. Uses district electronic data management tools to access student information, track progress monitoring and analyze achievement results to generate reports.	Assumes an active leadership role by instructing others on the use of computer programs that promote effectiveness and efficiency in using data to drive instruction or interventions. Uses district electronic data management tools proficiently to create reports and analyze progress-monitoring data
23	Establish session goals or meeting outcomes.	Does not clarify session goals or meeting outcomes and/or the purposes may be inappropriate for the teacher, student or situation.	Appears to know what they want to accomplish by the end of a session with teachers, students or meeting with educators, although it may be unclear to others.	Establishes a clear purpose appropriate to the situation when working with teachers, students and/or educators. Outcomes for sessions with teachers, students and/or meetings with educators are stated in advance.	Facilitates teacher, student and/or educator understanding of the purpose for each session or meeting. Session goals and/or meeting outcomes are clarified in advance and participants know what is expected of them.

2h	Provide effective professional development.	Teachers find the staff development program a waste of time. The supervisor designs a program that is disjointed and lacks a strong connection to the school's goals and improvement plan.	The supervisor creates a staff development program based on the latest pedagogical findings or current issues in education. The program, however, may not be tightly aligned with the school's goals or areas of improvement. Much of the staff development program is not engaging.	Staff development is purposeful. The supervisor identifies and addresses areas for improvement. He creates a staff development program that supports the school's goals and action plan. The program is engaging. The supervisor takes advantage of the staff's strengths and also uses outside resources to provide professional development.	Staff development is continual and purposeful. The supervisor identifies and addresses areas for improvement. Staff development is focused and is tied to the school's goals and action plan. Staff development is engaging and allows the staff to exert some influence over it. The supervisor takes advantage of staff's strengths and also uses outside resources to provide professional development. Staff development includes significant job-embedded coaching.
2i	Facilitate individual growth of teachers.	The supervisor discourages staff from reasonable professional development opportunities.	The supervisor suggests reasonable professional development activities, but does not provide opportunities for teachers to share their learning.	The supervisor provides opportunities for and encourages staff members to grow professionally – attend workshops, speak at conferences, contribute to staff development training, etc.	The supervisor works with individual staff members to set improvement goals, and provides opportunities for staff members to improve instructionally, providing aligned professional development and establishing effective PLCs (i.e. vertical and horizontal articulation, data meetings). The actions of the supervisor help teachers grow professionally – attend workshops, speak at conferences, contribute to staff development training, etc. The supervisor harnesses the unique skills and leadership abilities of individuals and offers responsibilities and assigns tasks commensurate with those abilities and in ways that will promote the individual's sense of worth.
